Langston Companies, Inc., was established in 1946. Moreover, we have evolved into a full service supplier of bags and packaging-related products and services. As a result, our family-owned, privately held company, has six manufacturing facilities in the U.S. and one in Mexico. Our product offerings include multi-wall paper sacks, cotton bale packaging, flexible intermediate bulk containers (bulk bags) and woven polypropylene bags.

Above all, we strive to be the most responsive, genuine, on-time supplier of quality products to our customers.

Participating with industry associations is an integral part of who we are. We believe in being an advocate to promote the development and progress of the packaging industry. These associations are also a platform that allow our voice to represent our customers matters of interest.
